Climate March

GENEVA

IPCC REPORT
JUST TRANSITION
CLIMATE SOLIDARITY DIVESTMENT

SATURDAY, OCT. 13

1:30 PM, RUE DU MONT-BLANC

A motivating, family & festive moment!

Let's march to bring forward our solutions!

States are not keeping the promise made at COP21

The United Nations Secretary General has stated that climate change poses an "existential threat" to life on earth.

States are not respecting the promise made at COP21 to keep global warming below 1.5 degrees. The new report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) will be published on the 8th of October. It will call for much stronger solutions.

Geneva is the headquarters of the IPCC and of the United Nations. The city is also one of the world's capitals for oil trade, insurance and finance of fossil fuels.

In its squares and streets we will amplify the message of the climate scientists and we will carry several strong demands, such as much more proactive transition policies, divestment from fossil fuels and international solidarity toward the victims of climate change effects.

The battle against climate chaos is neither lost nor won. It is being played out now. It offers us the opportunity to build a fairer, more desirable and more sustainable society for our children.

For a just transition, climate solidarity & fossil fuels divestment
